

UIC Impact Day Guidelines Packet – Fall Semester 2017

UIC Impact Day

- UIC Impact Day is co-sponsored with the Honors College Research Symposium on Monday, November 20, 2017, Illinois Rooms, Student Center East, 750 South Halsted, 1:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.
- (Presentations and judging are from 1:00 pm – 3:00 pm followed by reception and awards ceremony from 3:00 pm – 4:30 pm.)

UIC Impact Day is an event for students to showcase their scholarly pursuits in and beyond the classroom. Projects can be an explanation of the meaning of their engagement experience and its relation to a future goal, a presentation of the work product garnered from their engagement experience, or the presentation of the work itself (such as creative pieces). An experience that has enhanced your academic, professional, and/or scholarly pursuits may be appropriate for presentation.

Students present their experiences or capstone projects from their high impact engagement in such areas of concentration as career development, civic engagement & social justice, environmental awareness & sustainability, global perspective & diversity, and leadership & involvement. Examples of experiences include internships, student employment, leadership activities, service-learning and community service activities, and study abroad experiences. Students have the opportunity to exhibit posters or to conduct oral or creative presentations.

UIC Impact hosts an annual UIC Impact Day each semester to give students who have engaged in a UIC Impact engagement experience an opportunity to present their co-curricular experience or capstone project. Capstone projects will be judged by content matter experts and student engagement professionals. Students will focus their presentations of impact criteria on self, on the world, or on career development.
